Professional Experience
Veerman and Associates, communication consultant
First Union Corporation, (now part of Wells Fargo)- Vice president and manager of video services

Background
After graduating from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, Rob worked as an apprentice with an educational film production company. He then worked as a TV new cameraman for five years. He continued to hone his skills while traveling the world and working with Campus Crusade for Christ as a producer of special events. In 1995 Rob formed Veerman and Associates to serve as communications consultants for corporate clients and non-profit groups.

Rob is currently managing partner of Events/com, a company that provides audiovisual and production services for corporate meetings and events. Rob and a business partner started the company in 1998 with a small sound system, two video projectors and a U-Haul trailer. Today the company manages more than 300 events a year in venues around the country with a staff of veteran producers, engineers and technicians..
